Gladiolus for 1942

U. S. Department of Agriculture

Rudolph, O.

As I have done for a good many years past, I present for 1942 a list of the better known varieties of Gladiolus, together with many of the better new introductions, and some of the highly advertised varieties, many of which have not yet been thoroughly established as to value.

All of the bulbs offered in this list are home grown from bulblets or year old stock. Bulbs are grown on rich brown sand, properly fertilized to produce fine bulbs with all of their "pep" ahead of them. No bulbs have been forced for exhibition bloom. All bulbs offered have been inspected as required by law.

The money saved by an inexpensive list of this sort is passed on to the buyer, and it means many more bulbs in the average order. Every grower offers extras as an inducement to buyers. I promise nothing, but so far as I know, no customer was ever dissatisfied with what his money got from me.

The bulbs will be shipped to you when wanted, weather permitting, by safe post-paid delivery. Order now including your money with order, or have your bulbs shipped C. O. D.

NITCHMAN VARIETIES

Due to work connected with War Industries, H. J. Nitchman of Bellevue, Ohio, has been, and will continue to be, unable to grow and sell his originations. For this reason, I grew his varieties in 1941 and will continue to grow them for the present. I have the following Nitchman varieties for sale, and listed with the originator's brief description.

AZTEC TREASURE Clear light yellow with no throat markings of any kind; vigorous grower, 50 inches tall, 4 1/4 inch florets with 6 open. Plenty of bulblets that germinate well. Large 50¢; medium 30¢; small 15¢; blts. 10 for 25¢.

BELLEVUE Fine white commercial. Large 50¢; medium 30¢; small 20¢.

BEOWOLF Tall, late mauve lavender. Good grower and good keeper. Large 2 for 15¢, 6 for 35¢; blts. 50 for 15¢.

KING CARDINAL One of the largest red glads grown, tall with six to eight open. Stock scarce. Large $2.00; medium $1.25; small 65¢; blts. 15¢ each.

SHANG-RI-LA A florist's blue in medium shade and creamy throat, nicely blended. Heavy propagator. Large 50¢; medium 30¢; small 15¢; blts 10 for 25¢.

There is a way the creek curls through the low hills,
And a way the road follows along the sparkling creek,
And the hills themselves lap over one another;
On and on, to the end of the world, farther
Than the eyes can reach or the voice can speak;

And the sugar maples make canopies of shade
Over the country road in quarter-mile lengths
(Sons of some grandsires ancient thoughtfulness)
Till, passing between the rows, you stop to bless
Their rugged trunks and feel their thousand strengths.

And there is a way the grass grows, and the time
It is cut, and the way the rail and wire fences run,
And the houses look, and the barns and the carts,
And the lanes stretch back to where the pasture starts--
Yes, these are common things all, not one phenomenon,

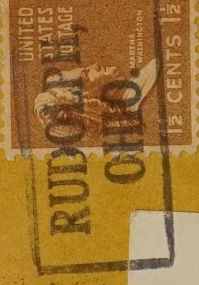

But take me, blindfold if you wish, over the land;
Over the forests, the water, the sand, the loam;
Take me to this place where the hills lie thus to the sky,

And though I see no face to tell it by
I shall know for certain that I am home.
